THE RIVOLI BAR

AT THE RITZ

‘See all without looking; hear all without listening; be attentive without being servile; anticipate without being presumptuous.’

- César Ritz

Few words so perfectly encapsulate The Ritz London than those of its founder; forever enshrining standards by which all subsequent hotels would be judged.

The Rivoli Bar reflects the luxury and decadence of the Art Deco movement, and marries this exuberant tradition with modernity and invention. Here, tradition is not traded for innovation but rather the two intertwine in every part of each experience.

This idealism shapes and inspires our collection of food and drink; combining a rich past with the creative flair of London’s modern bar scene.

It is with great pride and anticipation; we present you with The Rivoli Bar Menu.

THE VINTAGE

SAZERAC

~ £500 ~

The Sazerac is a local New Orleans variation of a cognac or whiskey cocktail. Claimed to be the oldest known American cocktail with origins in pre-Civil War New Orleans and American instances of published usage of the word cocktail to describe a mixture of spirits, bitters, and sugar can be traced to the dawn of the 19th century.

1906 Lheraud, Gold Leaf Sugar Cube, Peychaud Bitters, Vintage Absinthe

NEGRONI

~ £90 ~

It was Count Negroni who first decided to throw an extra measure of Gin into his Milano-Torino (Americano), dissatisfied as he was with its lack of backbone. Here we pay homage to the Count by offering this unique take on an Italian staple.

*1960's Gordon's Gin, 1970's Campari Bitters,
1980's Martini and Rossi Red Vermouth*

HANKY-PANKY

~ £80 ~

Created by Ada Coleman (Coley) in 1925, The Hanky-Panky is a variation on the sweet martini. Coley's secret ingredient was Fernet Branca and by adding a couple of dashes of this herbal elixir, she transformed the martini into a whole new drink.

Gordons Gin 1960, Martini Rosso 1980, Amaro Fernet

RUSTY NAIL

~ £80 ~

A prohibition classic, though it was originally called the B.I.F. in 1937, this cocktail's emergence was facilitated by Drambuie's continued efforts to export to America despite prohibition—one of these means was dropping cases of spirits off ships passing the coast of America.

Raise your glass to these pioneers from Scotland.

Glenmorangie Signet, 1960's Drambuie, Lemon Zest
